

Employee Application

The Peak School is currently seeking teachers for our multi-disciplinary middle and high school program. Peak specializes in providing a rigorous, progressive education in a culture of integrity. Teachers will be responsible for the preparation and teaching of a minimum of two core subjects and one elective or world language. Teachers will also be active members of the Peak community beyond the classroom and the school day.

Prospective candidates must have a minimum of a Bachelor's degree in one of their core subject areas and the ability to teach multiple subject areas at a rigorous middle-school level. Graduate credentials, prior teaching experience, and/or authentic experiences are preferred. Experience with interdisciplinary curriculum, experiential education, project-based learning, or Coalition of Essential Schools is also a benefit.

The successful candidate for a teaching position at The Peak School will possess an interest in collaborative work, a sense of humor, visionary thinking, a commitment to personal and professional development, and will be enthusiastic about working in a dynamic, high-engagement, personalized learning environment. Peak teachers will be committed to instilling in students a sense of self and of social justice and to actively working with families as a part of the Peak community.

Timeframe: Teaching positions will remain open until filled. First round decisions will be made no later than April 30th, 2014. Qualified candidates will be interviewed, and some may have the opportunity to teach a lesson in a small-group setting as part of the hiring process. Background checks are required prior to formal offers being made. Newly-hired teachers are required to participate in summer curriculum building on a flexible schedule and attend the one-week August Workshop to participate in school orientation, advisor training, and curriculum planning.

Compensation: Salary competitive, based upon experience and the regional independent school market; benefits package; professional development opportunities and support.

Candidates should submit the application, a copy of your resume, a letter of recommendation, and a statement of educational philosophy to:
